Andrew Jenkinson checks out two very different and exciting Eddis launches

Eddis Xplore 302

Compact with big tourer sophistication

Price £9999

Berths 2

MIRO 796kg

MTPLM 950kg

Length 3.20m

Width 2.14m

What they say

'The 302 is the UK's lightest tourer for two; its compact front end has an L-shaped lounge, creating a feeling of space. Good kitchen worktop plus a Whale space-saving under floor heater.'

What we say

The 302 is a compact two-berth tourer that's only 950kg fully loaded. We towed the baby 302 with a Kia C'eed which proved so easy with the outfit handling extremely well. There's a large, deep side window at the front which helps with the airy feel. The Whale heater is a space saver - see page 79 for a full review on this product!

Brilliant kitchen has all you need for two, super locker and cupboard storage

The 302 is a neat, compact tourer; it's so easy to pitch and is set up in minutes

L-shaped front lounge proved very comfortable

Six berths in its single axled length, and with a fixed double bed!

Light and airy - this layout will attract many buyers

Eddis Avante 526

Single-axle tourer that sleeps six

Price £14,599

Berths 6

MIRO 1332kg

MTPLM 1545kg

Length 5.43m

Width 2.23m

What they say

A unique, fixed bed, single-axle tourer for six, this model actually saves 150kg less weight, making it easy to handle. It means towing with a smaller vehicle is possible.

What we say

The interior feels very open. The side kitchen comes with an upmarket microwave and full oven plus fridge /freezer, and storage is good along with some useful worktop space. The side single dinette can seat two adults with ease. The side /corner washroom comes with a tip-up basin and electric flush loo; it's not the best arrangement but does the job and allows good showering facilities.
